SOUTH ENID'S TRAGEDY.

Patterson Was a "Carpet Bagger" and Was Disliked by Editor Isenberg.

SOUTH ENID, O. T., June 27 .- The double tragedy here yesterday, in which R. W. though not necessarily fatal. All three of the men had many friends, and sides are being taken by the citizenes. Isenbers came to Enid shortly after the opening, Sept. 16, 1893, and started the Daily Wave. He is a fearless fighter, and writes with a pen dripping with wormwood. He has made a practice of scoring his enemies He was opposed to Patterson primarily because he was what was termed a "carpetbagger," but more on account of his being a Southerner. The Wave is a Democratic paper, but it was not favored with the land office printing, and Isenberg attributed this fact to the machinations of Patterson. Isenberg is one of the best-known newspaper men in Oklahoma. Shortly after the strip opened he was assaulted by editor Whitaker, of the North Enid Tribune, who struck him when he was not looking. Behe could retaliate a crowd separated them. Register Patterson was well liked. He was a brilliant public speaker, and an enterprising and courageous man. A coroner's jury sitting over the bodies of Patterson and Williams returned a verdict that Williams came to his death by a hot from the pistol of Patterson, while Williams was in discharge of his duty, and that Patterson came to his death by a pistol shot fired by officer Williams while Patterson was resisting arrest. Williams was buried to-day in the city cemetery. Patterson's body was shipped to Macon, Ga. It is reported this evening that several

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 27.-The most disastrous fire which ever visited Minneapolis accomplished its work of destruction and death to-night. Within an hour after the alarm rang in, at 11 o'clock, six firemen paid the penalty of death for their faithfulness in trying to save the property of others. The dead are:

The fire originated in the boxes and packing stored in the rear of the building, and was beyond the power of the fire department to control. At a few mirates before midnight the walls fell, one side wall falling in and the other falling out into the alley, where the firemen were at work. The total loss will aggregate over $100,000; insurance unknown.

The first evidence of the coming disaster was the discovery of smoke from the rear portion of the building at 10:40 o'clock. Fo nearly half an hour the fire burned within the walls and roof of the building. It broke out first on the alley nearest Third street. The firemen could clearly see that flames were under full headway in the back part of the building. So the great store stood for nearly twenty minutes & vortex of flame, within a dark exterior.

A strong south wind was blowing. and the flames spread rapidly. The entire fire department was immediately called out, and for four hours the firemen had such a battle with fire as seldom falls to their lot. They could do nothing to stop the progress of the conflagration, and only a timely change in the wind, which swept the flames back over the burned district, saved the entire district south of Market street from destruction. Although many scores buildings were burned, the monetary loss was not large, as the fire was kept away from the richly-stored warehouses in the district, and only cheap frame structures, occupied by poor laboring people and small manufacturers were damaged. The loss will probably be between $500,000 and $1,000,000, with very little insurance, as the insurance companies have long avoided taking risks in that section. It was the worst fire scare that San Francisco has had in many a day, and the most alarming reports of the progress and magnitude of the fire were current throughout the city. As it was the flames wiped out one entire square and made holes in surrounding blocks. Probably one hundred poor familles have been made homeless, besides losing all their possessions. The man repeatedly wrote expressing regret, then indignation, and, finally, threats that if Cottle did not return the money, or part of it, he would make trouble. But, being a convict, he could not come to the United States to sue for it, and so, according to the police story. he obtained a confederate in the person of another ex-convict, and the two planned the job. The police say that the demand made on Mr. Cottle was for $5,000, and that in the letter he wrote his wife he inclosed a promissory note for that amount, on which she could raise the cash. The younger Cottle did not go directly to notify the police when his mother showed him the note, but went to Fort Erie to negotiate for the return of his father for a lesser sum. MONEY FOR SULLIVAN

THE BIG FELLOW'S BENEFIT LAST NIGHT A GREAT SUCCESS.

Fruitless Attempt to Attach the Box Office Receipts-Speeches by the Ex-Champion and Champion Corbett.

NEW YORK, June 27 .- John L. Sullivan had a rousing benefit at the Madison-square Garden to-night. The crowd was quite as large as that which witnessed the benefit tendered to Jack Dempsey a few weeks ago, and when Sullivan was seen by the multitude, the walls of the big amphitheaits. Early in the evening it was known that the Metropolitan Job Printing Company had secured an attachment against the boxoffice receipts. A deputy sheriff was promptly on hand, but was confronted by Max Hirsch, who represented "Parson" Davies, of Chicago. Hirsch was fortified with a bil Davies had bought the privileges of the show from Sullivan for the consideration of $5,300. This instrument was more than sufficient to keep the deputy sheriff from interfering with the receipts. It was announced by John P. Bunn that the Florida Athletic Club, through its representative, Joe Vendig, had offered a purse of $7,500 to George Dixon, of Boston, and Billy Plimmer, of England, to decide the featherweight championship of the world. Tom O'Rourke, on behalf of Dixon, said he was willing so far as the Dixon end was concerned, and Billy Plimmer will be looked to for a very quick answer. The fight will be brought off during the week the Corbett-Fitzsimmons bout is scheduled for. A letter from Bob Fitzsimmons, at Syracuse, was read, in which the ex-middle-weight champion expressed his sorrow at not being able to be present.

"Kid" McCoy, of Minneapolis, and Billy

Vernon, the Haverstraw "brickmaker." were first in order. The bag-punching contest between Joe Choynski, of San Francisco, Harry Pidgeon, of Canada, and Jack Cornell, of New York, was well appreciated and the San Francisco man easily outclassed the others. Billy Hennessey, of of Australia, on last Monday night, met "Mysterious" Billy Smith, of Boston, in a three-round go, and Smith only played George Green, better known as Corbett," of San Francisco, and Jimmy Foley, of New York, became very agstopping the bout after forty seconds' duration there might possibly have been a "knock-out," and Foley would have been Joe Choynski and Bob Armstrong came next in order in a very clever bout of three rounds, and "Parson" Davies's colored pupil showed up in excellent form. Peter Maher, the Irish champion, and Peter Burns, of Harlem, next made chopping blocks of each other without doing any damage. Steve O'Donnell, of Australia, and Tom Burns, of Denver, Col., then appeared for a brief bout, and did good work.

At 11:10 o'clock the last and biggest event on the programme was in order. It was between champion Jim Corbett and the beneficiary, John L. Sullivan. When the men climbed through the ropes, pandemonium broke loose and there were loud yells for a speech from the Boston man. He

"Ladies and Gentlemen-I thank you very sincerely for your presence here to-night and also I must thank my many friends who have come here to take part in my benefit. I hope I shall always deserve your kind appreciation. "Speech, speech, Corbett," was then the cry, and champion Corbett stepped to the middle of the ring. He grasped Sullivan's hand and said: "It will always be a pleasure to me to assist my friend, John L. at any time.' The men then boxed three short rounds and the big benefit was ended by the crowd carrying Sullivan and Corbett into their

HAS CABLED FOR HELP.

Spain Asked to Send 14,000 Additional Troops-The Revolt Caused by Burdensome Taxes.

HAVANA, June 27 .- Details reached here to-day of a desperate fight between a portion of the insurgents' force, under Maximo Gomez, in the province of Puerto Principe, and seventy of the auxiliary troops of the Spanish government, known as guerillas, under command of Captain Aguerro. The engagement took place on the day of the insurgent raid upon San Geronimo. The seventy guerrillas were surprised by the vanguard of Gomez's forces, commanded by Nicasio Mirabel, and there was great slaughter on both sides, the fighting being mainly with machetes. The gurrillas were out on a reconnoitering expedition, and un-expectedly came across the insurgent vanguard, consisting of about four hundred men. At first the guerrillas imagined they | Most newspaper correspondents now in Cuba had only a comparatively small body of get their letters out safely by sending them men before them, and their commander, Aguerro, called upon the insurgents to half Aguerro, called upon the insurgents to halt.

crying out: "Who goes there?" "Spanish forces," was the reply of the insurgent leader, as his men continued to advance rapidly upon the government guerrillas. Twice or three times more did the guerrillas try to halt the insurgents, but the latter pushed on quietly until, finally, their eader, seeing that the guerrillas were in an awkward position, cried: "At the machete!" This cry showed the government force that they were confronted by insurgents and not by a detachment of Spanish guerrillas, as they had been led to believe, and, the mask being thrown off, the guerrillas replied to the oft-repeated cries of "At the machete!" with volleys from their carbines, as they commenced to retreat before the vastly superior force of in-

Soon the government soldiers and the insurgent troops became engaged in a handto-hand combat, which quickly became little more than a massacre to the unfortunate guerrillas. The insurgents, in the meanwhile had been reinforced, until they were said to have numbered fully 1,500 men, composing the main body of men under the command of Gomez. Against these over whelming numbers the guerrillas fought heroically, shouting "Vive Espana," as they defended themselves as best they could against the enemy, using rocks or anything available behind which to shelter themselves as they fired as fast as possible at the insurgents, who pressed forward from all sides upon the little band. For an hour the fight lasted, and nothing could be heard but the rattle of musketry, the shouts of the combatants and the clashing of machetes. It is believed that few, if any, of the guerrillas escaped without being killed or wounded. Captain Aguierro led his men adopted resolutions designating next Sunday as mourning day. The Cuban day will be displayed draped and at half-mast in gallantly until an insurgent slashed at his horse's head with a machete, causing it to fall and throw the guerrilla leader heavily

The insurgents engaged with Aguierro's guerrillas are believed to have formed part of the bands who burned the towns of El Mulato and San Geronimo after capturing the forts and garrisons of those places, and it is said the news of this fresh disaster has caused a very uneasy feeling in official Over Ten Thousand Visitors at Chat circles. There is no doubt that if the government officials are willing to admit these disasters to the Spanish army in Puerto Principe within a few days, and not far from the capital of that province, the situation of affairs there must be very grave indeed, and may prove much more so when Maceo, who is reported to have made his ence of Epworth Leagues of the Methodist way from the province of Santiago de Cuba into Puerto Principe, joins his forces to ernoon. WASHINGTON, June 27 .- Testimony from people who have had personal observation of the condition of affairs in Cuba accumu lates. ED PORTER THOMPSON. Commissioner of Agriculture-I. B. NALL. The most memorable convention ever held by the Democracy of Kentucky closed here to-night at 7 o'clock, when Congressman A. S. Berry, of the Sixth Congressional district, adjourned the convention sine die. To-day's proceedings were of a more harmonious nature than those of the preceding two days until 4:50 this afternoon, when the warmest fight of the convention developed in the race for Secretary of State. In this contest there were named as candidates Hon. J. Stoddard Johnston, of Louisville; State Treasurer Henry S. Hale, Julge Charles W. Metcalfe and John W. Headly. of Louisville, present Secretary of State. After a hot fight and two ballots the contest centered between the forces of Hale and Metcalte, and the latter, seeing his defeat was certain, moved that Major Hale's nomination be made unanimous. At 9:55 Chairman Berry rapped the convention to order. There were no prayers offered and, in order to facilitate business, a motion was put and carried that the speeches be limited to five minutes each.

TAMPA, Fla., June 27 .- Official news of BEGINNING OF THE ROW. Marti's death has been received here. The Maj. Henry S. Hale, John W. Headley, directory of Cuban leaders met to-day and Charles W. Metcalfe and J. Stoddard Johnston were placed in romination in short speeches and the balloting began. It was at once evident that there was a great deal of pent-up excitement over the race, and GREAT SUCCESS before the call of countles was finished on the first ballot it was manifested. The first ballot was finally announced by the Chair as: Hale, 226; Metcalfe, 222; Headley, 280; Johnston, 150. It was then moved and carried that the candidate receiving the smallest vote on the next and succeeding ballots be dropped. Johnston and Headley withdrew from the race, leaving only Metcalfe and Hale. Then followed great confusion, many counties addressing the Chair at the same time and demanding that their votes be changed. The entire Louisville delega-tion, which had been passed, announced that its entire vote would be cast for Hale, which would have insured his nomination. The Chair was asked if Mr. Johnston's second session of the International Confername had been withdrawn, and, upon re-ceiving a negative answer, Benjamin Gard-ner, from Jefferson county, said that the Churches began its meeting here this aft-Louisville delegation would then cast its vote for Johnston. The latter's name, howerected especially for the occasion was comfortably filled at 2:30 o'clock, when the a recapitulation of the vote. During the wrangle following the secon recapitulation of the second ballot, J. B Baskin, of Louisville, put in nomination the leaguers to Chattanooga. Dr. J. P. lation stood: Hale, 361; Metcalfe, 262; John-ston, 255. The Johnston men attempted to delay the announcement of the proceedings, but without effect. Metcalfe and Hale jumped on the platform and urged their supporters to rally to their cause. At this time Virgil Taylor, of Mason county, created considerable excitement. He crowded directly in front of Chairman Berry and cried loudly: "Fraud! fraud! And you, the chairman of the Democratic convention of

"Sit down, or I will have you attended to," returned Mr. Berry. -you, we will have justice," returned Taylor and then he burst into a string of oaths which he directed at the chairman, He was only pulled off after he had created a scene that was disgusting. Taylor said he was afraid that Metcalfe was going to be counted out. Metcalfe withdrew before the ballot was concluded, in a neat speech, and urged that the nomination of Major Hale be made unanimous, which was done After the nomination of Hale the convention resumed its business, but there was still a continual howl, which was prolonged until the adjournment. Ed Porter Thomp-son, of Frankfort, was named for Superintendent of Public Instruction on the first ballot and I. B. LIKENS IT TO A "DOG FALL."

Senator Voorbees Talks About the Action of Kentucky Democrats. TERRE HAUTE, Ind., June 27 .- Senator Voorhees was this afternoon asked his opinion of the result of the Democratic convention in Kentucky. He said:

"The result of the convention reminds me of an expression we had when I was a boy in describing a wrestling match. When neither party got much, if any advantage, over the other it was called a 'dog fall.' At Louisville one party non-inated the ticket and the other made the platform and they came out about even with bimetallism in the abstract on top, The ticket is a splendid one, with the gifted and eloquent General Hardin up for Governor, a friend of silver money, while the platform is simply a reassertion of the Chicago platform of 1892, which is full of silver and gold both and was indersed by the American people three years ago
